Working Paper

Markups and Public Procurement: Evidence from Czech Construction Tenders

First Place, Young Economist of the Year Award, Czech Economic Society, 2025

Public procurement raises firm markups by approximately 15% during contract years, estimated on a 2006–2021 panel of Czech construction firms through a structural production-function framework, with selection-on-observables designs and models for unobserved factors addressing participation bias. A temporal analysis using synthetic-control and matrix-completion methods shows treatment effects declining from roughly 30% in 2006 to 10% in 2021 — consistent with institutional improvements and increasing efficiency in Czech public spending. Substantially revised and extended during Yale Ph.D. coursework, 2025–26; latest draft available on request.

Research Positions

Predoctoral Fellow, Tobin Center for Economic Policy, Yale University

2025 – 27

Research assistant to Professors Seth Zimmerman and Barbara Biasi (economics of education): data infrastructure for a study of New York City’s school-funding reform; school-board meeting-records archive; datasets linking federal research funding to university course offerings; national database of school-district leadership; code review and manuscript proofreading for “School Board Capacity” (NBER WP 34590: Biasi, Park, Singleton, and Zimmerman), supported by The Broad Center at Yale SOM

Research Assistant, Institute for International Economic Studies (IIES)

2024 – 25

Kizazi Kijacho early-childhood field experiment, 3,600 Tanzanian households (Prof. Ingvid Almås): survey data management, consumption aggregates, item-response-theory measures of child development, heterogeneity analysis, power calculations; latent-factor modeling with Profs. Orazio Attanasio and Costas Meghir

Research Assistant, IDEA at CERGE-EI, Prague

Helped build the Web of Science researcher–publication matched database for Prof. Matěj Bajgar’s IDEA Study 11/2022: The Publication Performance of the Czech Science Foundation Panel Members (2019–2021)
